

The Fishmongers' Company's Fisheries Projects Officer

Salary: circa £32,000 - £35,000 pa (plus generous pension and other benefits)

Hours: Full time (35hrs P/W) + occasional out of hours commitments

Location: Fishmongers' Hall, London Bridge, London EC4R 9EL

Are you passionate and knowledgeable about the UK's freshwater and/or marine fisheries and their associated environments? Do you want to join a small team to help develop a modern, dynamic and influential role for the Company to help support the UK's fisheries sector?

The Fishmongers' Company (www.fishhall.org.uk) is one of the Great 12 Livery Companies of London with a long-standing involvement in the UK's fisheries sector going back to medieval times. The Company is now developing a new strategy, relevant to the 21st century, which will use the Company's resources, reputation and facilities to develop a convening and advocacy capability in both freshwater and marine fisheries policy areas. The role will involve support for policy-work, developing partnerships and networks, convening and managing of events and overseeing Company funded projects.

For further details, interested candidates should contact Mrs Cynthia Baddoo, Fisheries Secretary/HR Administrator by email: cynthia.baddoo@fishhall.org.uk.

Closing date for applications is 18 November 2016; interviews for shortlisted applicants will take place at Fishmongers' Hall during the week beginning 12 December 2016. All applicants will receive responses.