

RRC 17th Annual Network Conference

*Planning, delivery and evaluation of our rivers:
challenges and choices*

26th — 27th April 2016

The Imperial Hotel, Blackpool, UK

Rivers and their catchments provide a wide range of natural and societal services. Working with natural processes, natural flood management and river and catchment restoration can play a pivotal role in increasing the provision of these services. The RRC Annual Network Conference aims to capture a wide ranging view of river and catchment restoration and to provide a unique opportunity to connect all functions interested in, and involved with, restoring and managing healthy, functioning rivers.

This conference should equally appeal to river restoration practitioners, flood risk managers, Lead Local Flood Authority staff, Catchment Partnerships, river engineers, planners, consultants, contractors, agencies, natural and social scientists, environmental economists, trusts and NGOs with a requirement to restore rivers and their natural processes under the various EU directives and UK policies.

Topics at the 2016 Conference will include:

- Rural river management and natural flood management
- Urban river enhancement, flood risk and natural processes
- Integrated catchment management and multiple benefits
- River restoration tools, methods and techniques

Conference Format

The conference will mix 41 presentations with 5 half-day workshops, a site visit and poster presentations. There will also be a prize for the best poster as judged by the delegates.
